Schindel Retires from Loup Power District

COLUMBUS, Neb. — Albion Division Superintendent Jim Schindel has retired from Loup Power District after 44 years of service.

Schindel joined Loup in 1976 as an Apprentice Lineman at the Albion Retail Operation. He was promoted to Lineman in 1977. He was promoted to Journeyman Lineman in 1981 and became Line Foreman at the Albion Retail Operation in 1993. Schindel was promoted to Division Superintendent in 2014.

As Albion Division Superintendent, Schindel oversaw the operation and maintenance of Loup's electric transmission and distribution system in the Albion Division service area which includes the northern part of Boone and Platte Counties, and the southwest corner of Madison County.

Schindel is a graduate of Hinton High School in Hinton, Iowa. He attended Northwest Iowa Technical College in Sheldon, Iowa, where he earned an Associate of Applied Science Degree in Utility Line.

Schindel and his wife, Connie, are the parents of three daughters: Amanda, Crystal, and Alicia. They have eight grandsons and three granddaughters.

ABOUT LOUP POWER DISTRICT: For more than 80 years, Loup Power District has provided reliable, low-cost electricity to customers in Boone, Colfax, Nance and Platte Counties and part of Madison County. The District also provides economic development and five parks in these areas. More information about Loup is available at www.loup.com.
